Bunny's Tips for Air Travel

by: @travel_bunny_diary

Hello Everyone,

As the year is drawing to an end, perhaps we want to squeeze in one last holiday or plan for next year. If you're flying off - Bunny has all the best flight tips for you! And a huge congratulations to @lunabott who is celebrating one year of #plushielovestoeat - so many great food shown by great plushies from around the world. #plushiesbuildbridges

Finally, take a chance if you can to visit our buddy, @percybunnyrabbit's feed to find out about his wonderful Plushie Art Exhibition and charitable foundation to support those with CPTSD, PTSD, Anxiety and Depression.

Sending you big hugs, from Tipsy x

Tipsy xxx (ps. I don't know about you, but my tummy is rumbling now!) pps, zoom in to see Doyka and Hedge!

1. A good sense of humour, love of adventures and low expectations are a must - unless you own a private jet.
2. Have everything vital in your hand luggage = PLUSHIES, medication, a pen and your documents. Your entire house hold is not vital at this point.

3. Bribe your lovely flight attendant with sweets/ chocolate - these guys are not on a never ending vacation but fly tough schedules. They will be totally delighted by a little kindness and sugar.

4. If your human is on a special diet like high carb, no carb, no sugar or only eats plants harvested at full moon by fairies - PLEASE take an appropriate amount of the right snacks with you.

Благодаря Доечке @doyka_and_hedge, газету Pets' Mews теперь можно читать на русском!

5. Buy a bottle of water after security - this is a good investment in your humans health.

6. No matter how hot it is at your home airport - it will be cold on the plane. So unless your human has some natural fur like me he/she will at least need a sweatshirt and some socks.

7. ENJOY YOUR FLIGHT AND RELAX

8. If your human feels unwell for whatever reason - let the crew know! They will do everything to make him/her feel better but they can't read your humans mind.

Did all 8 points sound familiar - CONGRATULATIONS!!!!
Did you hear something new - GREAT!!!!

In any case you will be well prepared for your next flight.
I wish you many Happy Landings!

Love of Food is a Universal Language

#plushielovestoeat Celebrates its 1st Anniversary

Food, food, glorious food! An Irish playwright said it best, "There is no sincerer love than the love of food." whether plushies or humans, the aroma of food cooking draws us together. It doesn't matter where the table is set: in a restaurant, a kitchen or tent, it never fails those who are at the table when smiles and conversations open all kinds of doors.

What is it about eating that brings us closer? Food has always seen to be part of the human story and across cultures love is always shown through food. #plushielovestoeat began as a way to bring our community together and Plushies have definitely proven the love of food. What first started with a simple exchange of ideas a year ago between my creative partner @mallorcansloth and I, grew into a celebration of diversity through food every Friday. Post after post, Plushies have embraced the hashtag sharing their food story around a virtual special table.

Some of our delicious highlights rest on the efforts of many, and in our first month of October 2018 over 500 plushies shared their boldest tips and techniques, fabulous delicacies and memorable cultural traditions. But selecting a winner from so many was a challenge. The beloved Russian dumpling from @losikandelik won the first award and with it, a regional conversation had erupted between Pelmeni, Vareniki and the Polish Perogi. In November @winkyhoots shared a slow cooking method of reduction with her family recipe winning us over. "Pineapple Cinnamon Maple Jam has a soft spot in our hearts and tummy, and since we love slow-cooked meals at home, this yummy dish can be enjoyed on its own, easily used as a topping or added to meats or pies," Accepting her win, @winkyhoots added "Thank you to our loving hosts for #plushielovestoeat and bringing us together in such a delicious way."

Near the close of the year an interesting momentum developed when another hashtag started flowing and Plushies were now including the tag #plushieslovetoat. We were getting feedback each new week with positive messages. @monchhichifanuk applauded it with "It is nice to see many plushies share such good food from around the world with the hashtags," and the enthusiastic @rascal55go's, "I am a foodie, I can never forget #plushielovestoeat." It was becoming harder and harder to choose a winner but @ikeabadgerbkk won that month with two mouthwatering dishes: Moo Satay and Spicy Dry Tom Yum Noodle from Thailand. His love for food and its intrinsic flavours has him continually coming back posting using the hashtag with "I'll keep exploring the world of delicacy and sharing with my plushie friends!"

January didn't show any slowing down either, @helga_and_her_friends showcased her charming outdoorsman friend named Chris with his first attempt at baking. His secret to getting his Swiss Woodcutter Cake's special bark texture to work, "you got to try it, plain and simple." The next winner introduced our viewers to a very special exotic and unusual destination. "My silly human and her friends had booked a small Yurt, a traditional tent. It was very cosy with a lot of carpets, cushions and small tables." What @travel_bunny_diary was referring to was a local Turkmenistan restaurant and the ambiance is what won in February. Woshuku cuisine has been recognised by UNESCO and @mayugen1211's Japanese Ichiju Nisai took the top prize for March. As our hemisphere thawed, we were served with all sorts of interesting gastronomic delights with a personality from the province of Almeria in Spain and Italy's Sicily. For April, the Spanish Crumbs or Migas from @sirrogerbear unveiled ancient essences of the past with influences that can still be felt today. While a delectable dessert brings a grin to many faces, #plushielovestoeat honoured this saint's most noteworthy body part, Saint Agatha's Breasts of ricotta and marzipan brought to us by @sealsniffer in May.

@ukibear17's restaurant series has him constantly sharing through #plushielovestoeat and in June his pumpkin soup caught our attention based on his unconventional style but easy method to a healthy lifestyle. @alexadebarcelona's Foxita had us craving Mexico's street food scene but it was her video presentation that had us asking, how did her senses react visiting each vendor? "Mexican corn-based food is never the same really, the dish can change with your experimentation with sauces which can be raw or cooked but spicy most of the time. The flavours of Mexico are strong because they are not afraid of flavour." Completing the roster of winners is @dino.vipkid, who skillfully showed us how to prepare the savory Japanese pancake in a non-traditional setting. Okonomiyaki hit our taste buds and we were delighted to present Dino as the winner for August. As we visit September's final winner Australian Fusion at Primrose Cafe, one thing that is certain. Plushies do take food seriously and @mynameis.first sources out the chicest venues, ingredients, and cafes.

6800 plus posts from around the world have dazzled us with a unique World of Delicious and so many new friends are joining weekly. Becoming a contributor is simple. #plushielovestoeat is open to Plushies every Friday, with one entry each week gets you started. Your presentation can be from your own kitchen or a restaurant visit, maybe an ingredient or a recipe tantalises you or an entire meal. It is important that your food detail a backstory, remember this is about learning a little bit about each other and of course include the hashtag #plushielovestoeat! A winner is selected every new month and a certificate of appreciation is awarded for wowing us with your tasteful dish. Also in the official announcement, an interview adds a special portion to the show giving our audience perhaps a chance to explore and learn something new and cultivate food connections.

It has been a pleasure hosting with @mallorcansloth but comments like those from @dreamy.doris keep us fuelled and anxious for another exciting year, "I only found this out when I was looking for quick and easy recipes and I love #plushielovestoeat!" We invite You, multiculturalism is on the menu, so let's eat together. We want you to be our guest on the #plushielovestoeat show.
